

THE RUN OF THE 175

By TEN DAIRYMALE.

CHAPTER II.

A faint tinge of pink was just beginning to adorn the Eastern sky, and the great cathedral clock had just tolled the hour of five, and Earlington was yet asleep, and no wonder, for it was Sunday morning and the people of this prosperous little mining town, who were never idle during the remaining six days of the week, gladly took their rest on the Sabbath.

Through the window the night operator, who was yet on duty, could be seen with his chair tilted back and his feet resting on the table, dozing peacefully, while on a pile of mail sacks near by the call boy snored loudly, much to the annoyance of the office cat, to which, sleep having been thus far denied, the only really enjoyable thing left to do was to take a much needed face washing. Outside all was quiet, except the never ceasing puff-puff of the electric power plant in the distance. The crew of switchmen who manned the one yard engine had long since sought the shelter of the "shack," after having been advised by the yardmaster that there would be no more trains till 5:30. At the north end of a long siding stood a road engine, and the cloud of dense, black smoke that floated skyward from the smokestack indicated that she was being made ready to go out, and even then the engineer, with a torch in one hand and a long spotted oil can in the other, was attending to the matter of lubrication. At the other end of the long siding stood the yard engine, coupled to a caboose, which was to be put on the expected train relieving the one that came in. The engineer on the switch engine sat far back in his seat with his feet supported, at a much greater altitude than his head, by an armrest in the front end of the short little cab. The fireman occupied a like position on the opposite side of the cab. Both had quietly fallen to sleep almost in the midst of an animated discussion of the new Superintendent. Suddenly the engineer awoke with a start. He had heard something, and looking in the direction of the expected train, he saw, far up the hill, the blink of a headlight, which was hardly perceptible in the gray dawn. He yelled to the fireman to wake up and, getting no answer, gave that worthy a decidedly rough shake, and while the fireman was industriously rubbing his eyes, the other turned his attention to the firebox to see if there was any fire in there. He found it nearly out, and reaching for the shovel, began to put in coal. While he was thus occupied something happened, or rather, something passed. A loud roar and a violent trembling of the earth was all they heard, and a thin cloud of smoke now mingling with an immense cloud of dust as far as they could see in both directions was all they saw, except that the engineer could plainly see that the blinking headlight which he had just seen coming from the South, was no longer to be seen.

The two men in the cab of the little yard engine gasped for breath, and with distended eyes looked at each other for a full minute before either could utter a word.

"Well, I'm d-d!" exclaimed the engineer.

"What was it?" gasped the fireman almost in a whisper.

"I've been here a long time," said the engineer, in a more composed tone, "and it's the first time I ever see anything go through here like that."

By this time the now thoroughly awakened operator was running around, trying to find out what train it was that had gone through without getting orders, but the only tangible information that he could obtain was from the engineer of the road engine, who told him that it was an engine with two or three box cars attached, "funnin' like h-l-a-beatin' tankard," as that knight of the oilcan expressed it. This, however, did not tend in any way to relieve the tension on the nerves of the excited operator, who made haste to inform, by a series of nervous dots and dashes, the train dispatcher of what had happened. The train dispatcher immediately wired the roundhouse foreman to have the wrecker in readiness to be called out at any moment.

Soon the yard master and switchmen, as well as quite a crowd of citizens, who had been awakened by the noise of the runaway, began to gather and express opinions as to what the result would be, and what it might have been if the track had not been clear through the Earlington yards.

THAT WHITE OWL.

Dick Salmon's Rare Bird Believed to Be Identified at Last.

The Halsey "white owl" item has traveled 'round the earth and finally landed in a country exchange in the following form: An unusual incident is reported from Halsey, near Dawson Springs. A few days ago a boy captured a pure white owl in an old-fashioned quail pen. The bird has been taken to Dawson and put on exhibition. Dawson people are inclined to believe that it is an albino, but from its description it is evidently a snowy owl.

The snowy owl is common enough in the arctic regions and sometimes in the very cold winters it is seen in the northern part of the United States, but how a specimen ever straggled as far south as Kentucky is a mystery.

It is probably the first known instance of the kind on record.

Dick Salmon is the "boy" who "captured" this bird of the night, this "pure white owl." He exhibited it first to a genial commercial traveler, who in turn told the story to the world. This is the first time the name of the discoverer of this "rara avis" has been published, although a number of his friends who knew have enjoyed the personal side of the incident. It is now thought from the peculiar markings on the breast of the bird that it is of English origin, possibly what was known long ago as the Meeker owl.

BOYS AND PUPS.

Sometimes the Likely One Turn Out Disappointingly.

Boys are a good deal like the pups that fellows sell on the street corners—they don't always turn out as represented. You buy a likely setter pup and raise a spotted coach dog from it, and the promising son of an honest butcher is just as like as not to turn out a poet or a professor. I want to say in passing that I have no real prejudice against poets, but I believe that if you're going to be a Milton there's nothing like being a mute, inglorious one, as some fellow who was a little sore on the poetry business once put it. Of course a packer who understands something about the versatility of cottonseed oil need never turn down orders for lard because the run of hogs is light, and a father who understands human nature can turn out an imitation parson from a boy whom the Lord intended to go on the board of trade. But on general principles it's best to give your cottonseed oil a Latin name and to market it on its merits and to let your boy follow his bent, even if it leads him into the wheat pit. —From "Letters From a Self-Made Merchant to His Son," by George Horace Lorimer.

PETITION

For a New Road to be Run From Earlington to Richland Made to the County Judge.

A petition signed by W. D. Hobgood, J. D. Lynn, John W. Young, H. E. Eisen and W. C. McLeod has been presented to County Judge Givens to open a road from Earlington to Richland, running due west over the lands of Y. Y. Gordon, W. C. McLeod, Luther Hibbs and J. W. Young to a point on the Madisonville and Princeton road near Hyman Eisen's place in the town of Richland. This road will be of great convenience to the public in reaching coal mines, markets and the county seat, and is a direct route from Earlington to Richland.

RIOTOUS MINERS SHOT.

Several Men Killed and Wounded in Battle in West Virginia Over Injunction.

SEVENTY-THREE PRISONERS TAKEN.

Supported by Mine Workers the Rioters Were Destroying Property and Defying Authorities.

MAINTAINED CAMPS AND MARCHED ABOUT INTIMIDATING.

Charleston, W. Va., Feb. 25.—At Stannford City, in Raleigh county, at dawn this morning a battle royal took place between the joint posse of United States Deputy Marshal Cunningham and Sheriff Cook on one side and riotous miners on the other, as a result of which three miners were killed, two others mortally wounded and a number of others on both sides hurt.

The trouble grew out of the attempt to arrest 34 miners for violation of the injunction issued by Federal Judge Keller last August. On last Saturday Deputy Marshal D. W. Cunningham went to Atkinsville, a mining town in Raleigh county, to arrest men charged with violating the injunction. He was surrounded by a large party of miners armed with Winchester rifles, who ordered him to leave the place, an order which he quickly obeyed. Sheriff Cook about the same time attempted to make some arrests under process issued by the State court, and was treated in a like manner.

Cunningham returned to this city and reported to the Marshal and District Attorney. He was instructed to return with men sufficient to serve the process given him, and to do it at all hazard. Before Cunningham returned to Atkinsville, however, Marshal John K. Thompson and S. C. Burdette, attorney for the United Mine Workers, went to the scene, spending most of Sunday and Monday there. They found everything quiet there, the rioters having withdrawn from the immediate neighborhood and crossed New River, going into camp, 300 strong, near the Big "Q" mine on the north side.

Thompson and Burdette came home Tuesday morning and Cunningham and a strong posse went from here to make the arrests. When Atkinsville was reached the Federal forces were joined by Sheriff Cook and his posse. The coal companies near by furnished some guards, and the deputy Marshal and Sheriff found themselves in command of about 100 well armed and determined men. The rioters had recrossed the river on Tuesday, and were parading up and down before the various coal works, from 150 to 200 men armed with rifles. They intimidated miners at work, drove away the guards at the mines and even went so far as to disarm a guard and force him to march at the head of their procession. Emboldened by their success, they attempted to burn down a bridge of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad over Piney gulch, and threatened the destruction of other property. Last night they went into camp near Stannford City.

This morning about daybreak the officers and their combined posse surprised the rioters in their camp and called on them to surrender. The reply was a shot. This was answered by a shot, and immediately a battle was raging. When it ceased three of the rioters lay dead and many others were found to be wounded, two of them fatally.

Seventy-three arrests were made, 10 falling to the share of Deputy Cunningham and 63 to that of Sheriff Cook. All the prisoners were taken to Beckley, the county seat of Raleigh, where the 10 United States prisoners were given a preliminary hearing by Commissioner Dunn and held for their appearance at court here. They will be brought here on an early morning train. The Federal authorities will try to get the State to give up the 63, so that they may be tried in the Federal Court, but it is doubtful whether it will be done.

The injunction which the men are charged with violating was issued at the suit of the C. & O. Coal Agency Company. It was on behalf of every coal mining company operating in the New River field. President Mitchell and Secretary Wilson and 150 miners were enjoined.

It applied generally to all their abettors and covered almost every foot of ground in the New River mining section. Although the miners have all been at work for several months, both on New River and on Kanawha, the strike, which began on June 7 last, has never been declared off and the New River field has been filled with a lot of agitators who have caused trouble from time to time during the entire winter.

The strikers have been staying in camps and in such houses as they were allowed to occupy here and there, living out of the commissary furnished by the national organization of the United Mine Workers, meeting and marching and intimidating such of those who were at work as they could influence and only awaiting the proper time to blow the slumbering spirit of the strike anew into flame.

The strikers have boasted that trouble would come again in the spring, and it is thought the present outbreak is the beginning of the new fight. A week ago last Friday the strikers marched about to the various mines, ordering workmen to come to a meeting on Sunday, and in one case for several hours they kept anyone from entering or leaving the mine of the Lanark Coal Co. This was the infringement of the injunction that caused the rules to be issued against the men whom Cunningham attempted to arrest on last Saturday.

Gen. J. W. St. Clair, attorney for the New River coal men, said tonight:

"The workings of the United Mine Workers in New River Valley have been productive of nothing but lawlessness, the destruction of life and property, since the beginning of the strike in June. This state of things has existed so long that the good people of that region have determined to support the officers of the State and National Government to whatever extreme it may be necessary to protect themselves against these marauders and to teach the United Mine Workers that they cannot instill into West Virginia miners lawless methods, and further that non-union men willing to work shall enjoy that privilege, be the cost what it may."

Director W. R. Merriam is threatening to resign from the Census Bureau because he was not appointed Secretary of Commerce.

George F. Catlett has taken charge of the Princeton Leader, which was sometime ago purchased by E. M. Johnson. He has recently been publishing the Clinton Democrat.

HAPPENINGS IN KENTUCKY.

Judge J. L. Dorsey, of Henderson, has withdrawn from the race for Circuit Judge to succeed himself in the Henderson-Union-Webster district. Hon. Malcolm Yeaman, of Henderson, at the same time announces his candidacy. Judge J. W. Henson, of Webster county, is the other candidate.

Rev. E. D. Maddox, of Constitution, and Miss Donia Brown, of Hanson, were married at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. Maddox is a very prominent minister of that section and is highly respected by all.

The Imperial Tobacco Company of Kentucky, of Henderson, filed articles of incorporation with the Secretary of State, capital $75,000. James McDonald, Richmond, Va.; Geo. E. Willis, Bristol, England; Chas. Samuel Clark, Liverpool, England; Wilford C. Reed, Richmond, Va., incorporators.

Theodore Slaton and Charley Sample, neighbors, and living in the Browder Chapel country, had a misunderstanding about a mule trade and as a result Slaton stabbed Sample. The wound is in the left side and while it is a very severe wound, yet the doctors believe the man will recover.

Styler Newman, one of the oldest and most widely known log men of this section, met death near the mouth of Pond river while floating a large raft to the mouth of Green river. The report says that Newman was standing near the edge of the raft, which struck other floating timber or some obstacle, which caused him to lose his balance and fall into the river. The supposition is that the body floated under the logs, as his two assistants were not able to again see him. The body has not as yet been recovered. He was about fifty years of age and unmarried.

P. A. Campbell and Miss Myrtle L. Clark, both of the Richland county and highly respected young people of this section, were married at the residence of the bride's parents.

Hayes' attorneys filed reasons and asked for a new trial of the famous Hayes-Haag damage suit at Henderson. They asked the court to set aside the verdict and grant new hearing on grounds that the court erred in giving instructions from 1 to 7.

There were only eight instructions, and the last was given the jury at the instance of Hayes' attorneys. The court overruled the motion and the case will be appealed.

Jailer Wallace has given Dr. Bullock, of Frankfort, a positive answer, asserting that even should Gov. Beckham and all other officials concerned consent, he would not permit the inoculation of the bodies of Earl Whitney and Claude O'Brien with disease germ, as proposed by Dr. Justin De Lisle, of New York. Jailer Wallace is the final officer in charge of the prisoners.

Senator J. C. Blackburn has sent the city of Paducah from Washington 175 handsome volumes for its public library, which will be open in a few months. They nearly all deal with civil government.

Mrs. Donnett, the American wife of an English officer, recently killed the largest tiger ever killed in India. It measured ten feet and eight inches in length.

NEW LINE OF CHURCH WORK

Miss Jessie Nisbet, of Madisonville, Will Probably Go to Dallas, Texas, as a Pastoral Helper.

Miss Jessie Nisbet, of Madisonville, who recently graduated from the A. M. Coronet Training School for Pastoral Helpers, of Cincinnati, Ohio, will probably go to Dallas, Texas, to assist in pastoral work, as it is expected she will be called to that place. Miss Nisbet, together with two other young ladies, was of the first class of only three students to graduate from the school mentioned.

A pastoral helper is defined as a woman who gives all her time to helping the pastor, and it is claimed that the right kind of a pastoral helper will in most cases be of more service to the church than an assistant pastor. Miss Nisbet is an educated, cultured young woman, well equipped to fulfill her high mission.

Will Address Sunday Schools.

Mr. T. C. Gebauer, field worker for the Kentucky Sunday School Association, will address the Sunday school workers and all who are interested in Sunday school work in our county at the following places on dates named:

Madisonville, Sunday, March 15th. Nebo, Monday, March 16th. Mortons Gap, Wed. March 18. Earlington, Thurs. March 19th. Hanson, Friday, March 20th. Every Sunday school worker in the districts represented by the above appointments is expected, if possible, to attend the meeting.

Mr. Gebauer is a Sunday school worker of experience and can and will be a great help to all those who attend. We most respectfully urge all workers and friends to be present at the meeting in their district. We sincerely hope that all will be sure to attend and induce as many of your friends and friends of the Sunday school to attend as possible.

DEMURRER SUSTAINED

Case Against Reinecke Coal Co. Under Two-Weeks Pay Bill.

Before adjourning the Hopkins circuit court last week Judge Gordon announced his decision on the argument in the two-weeks pay indictment of the Reinecke Coal Co. The court sustained the demurrer and an order covering the decision was put to record. The court did not state upon what particular ground the demurrer was sustained. The argument of the defense was that the two-weeks pay law was class legislation and unconstitutional, and also that the bill was of no effect because defectively drawn. It is not known whether Commonwealth's Attorney Grayson will appeal from this decision.

The jury in the Haag-Hayes damage suit has returned a verdict which clears Hayes of all suspicion of burning Hayes' hotel and justifies Haag in accusing him of the act.

SORE HANDS

Itching, Burning Palms, Painful Finger Ends,

With Brittle, Shapeless, Discolored Nails,

As Well as Roughness and Redness,

ONE NIGHT TREATMENT

Soak the hands on treading in a strong, hot, creamy lather of Cuticura Soap. Dry and anoint freely with Cuticura Ointment, the great skin cure and preserver of emollients. "Wear, during the night, old, loose kid gloves, or bandage lightly in old, soft cotton or linen. For red, rough, cracked, chapped, dry, flamed, itching, feverish palms, with brittle, shapeless nails and painful finger ends, this treatment is simply wonderful, frequently curing in a single application. In no other way have Cuticura Soap and Ointment demonstrated their astonishing curative properties more effectively than in the treatment of the hands, especially when tortured with itching, burning and scaly eczema.

Complete local and constitutional treatment for every humor of the skin, scalp and blood, with loss of hair, may now be had for one dollar. Bathe freely with hot water and Cuticura Soap, to cleanse the surface of crusts and scales, and soften the thickened cuticle. Dry without hard rubbing, and apply Cuticura Ointment freely, to all itching, irritation and inflammation, and soothe and heal, and, lastly, take the Cuticura Resolvent Pills to cool and cleanse the blood. This treatment affords instant relief, permits rest and sleep in the severest forms of eczema and other itching, burning and scaly humors, and points to a speedy, permanent and economical cure, by forcing, dispelling humors from infancy to age, when all other remedies and the best physicians fail.

HURT IN THE MINES.

William Faulkner, an Old Miner, Seriously Injured by Slow Shot.

HE WENT BACK TOO SOON.

William Faulkner, an old colored miner, who has been a faithful employee of the St. Bernard company for twenty-six years, was seriously injured Tuesday afternoon in the Hecla mines. He is a pick miner and had put in his shot and touched it off. Then, retiring to a safe distance, he waited a short time for the shot to go off. He went back too soon and got the force of the explosion in his breast. The lung was perforated by its force and the old man is not expected to survive. Every possible attention has been given him but at his age the hurt is probably fatal.

More Rios.

Disturbances of strikers are not nearly so grave as an individual disorder of the system. Overwork, loss of sleep, nervous tension will be followed by utter collapse, unless a reliable remedy is immediately employed. There's nothing so efficient as Chamberlain's Kidney & Bladder Cure. It cures disorders of the kidneys as Electric Bitters. It's a wonderful tonic, and effective remedy for the greatest of all around medicine for run down systems. It dispels Nervousness, Rheumatism and Neuritis, and expels urinary germs. Only 50c, and satisfaction guaranteed by St. Bernard Drug Store.

The Price of Pleasure.

It is hard for a lovely woman to forego the pleasures of the life which she was created to enjoy and adorn. She may have to be busy all day in office or in store, yet she cannot deny herself the social pleasures which are offered her.

But the fatigue is often too great for her, and she suffers from headache and backache as a consequence.

Women who are tired and worn out will find a perfect tonic and nerve in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

It cures headache, backache and the other aches and pains to which women are subject.

It establishes regularity, drives weakness, inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"I am so pleased with this medicine, I hardly know what thanks to give you for your kind favors," writes a lady, Mrs. A. L. Thomas, Co., N. J., "I suffer so much with great pains in my back and stomach and palpitation of the heart, that at times I could hardly lie down. Could hardly get up in the morning, but after using three bottles of Favorite Prescription, and two vials of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, I am like a new woman."

Sick women, especially those suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

MINES AND MINING NEWS

A prominent U. M. W. official says his organization spent over two hundred and sixty thousand dollars in the effort to force the free miners of Hopkins county to join the Union. Of the $166,319 reported as received by Sec'y. Treas. Campbell up to Dec. 1, 1901, $106,250 was sent by the National Board. In the report of Indianapolis in January last, he omitted to tell the convention how much money was spent for rifles and cartridges; for drill masters of the armed camps, established in Hopkins county. If the dupes who contributed this great sum of money, with which to oppress honest American workmen, because they refused to join the U. M. W. could only know how this money was spent they would certainly be astounded. It would be a record of extravagance, of drunkenness and of vice by officials and organizers unequalled, a record of lawlessness and crime only equaled during the anthracite strike. Courts of justice have sent members of this organization to the penitentiary for murder, for intimidation and for murderous assault. Many members are fugitives from justice. Seven members will be tried for the murder of Sheriff Coffey in a few days. So much this money accomplished. A very few dozen members of the order are still in Hopkins county, waiting for "aid." These joined the order for "aid," not from principle. This great sum of money so wickedly thrown away, would have bought 700 comfortable homes for miners. It would have opened and equipped mines enough to have produced 2,000 tons of coal daily. No better illustration of the incompetency of the organization of U. M. W. to manage the coal business of the country could be given.

More trouble for the Federation of Labor people of Evansville. It seems that the management of the Evansville Furniture Company does not advocate the eight hour labor bill before Congress, and forsooth the walking delegate proposes to do things. The gas company will get along without the strikers and the St. Bernard mines are still unable to supply the demand made on it for coal by Evansville people—a few more boycotts on this coal, with the free advertising given by U. M. W. in Evansville and the demand will require the product of another mine to supply Evansville alone.

Many labor unions in Virginia have boycotted the National Guard, union members declining to re-enlist on expiration of enlistment. No good law abiding citizens object to the National Guard. No good law abiding citizens object to courts enjoining lawlessness. The men or organizations that denounce either the militia or the courts are not worthy to be American citizens. They will violate law to aid their personal interest.

The St. Bernard Mining Company planted over sixty thousand walnuts in the past two months. During the past twelve years it has planted between three and four millions.

semblance to Lillian Russell, assists in the production to a great degree and gives a performance that is always consistent and pleasing. The chorus is one of the special features, rounding out the play with melody and graceful dancing, and it may be said that the "Ping Pong" dance is a distinct novelty and one in which the chorus shows to exceptional advantage. The musical numbers are breezy and cheery; in fact, all that could be desired of the musical comedy.

The plot of the play is above the average for this sort of a production. Sam Flinders, while at college at Harvard, falls in love with an actress, and decides to go to New York and go on the stage. His parents being opposed to it, disinherits him, but being a reckless sort of a chap with "I-don't-care-what-comes-to-me" way about him, decides to shift for himself, and while in New York he met the actress he has fallen in love with at college, who turned out to be no other than the woman his parents had selected to become his wife, not knowing that she also had adopted the stage.

The play is full of life, with one humorous incident crowding so closely upon another that the audience has but little time to catch a breath between laughs. In the supporting company will be found Miss Hattie Lucier, Fred Louder, Gus Pirley, the whistling tramp and others.

BLUE & BARD.

When the little weeds and grasses Poke their heads above the ground, And the farmer burns his plant bed, Spring is surely hovering 'round.

When we hunt up last year's tackle, Count our poles and lines all o'er, It may not be exactly springtime, But it's hovering 'round the door.

When we feel that fellow feeling, As if all the world were good, 'Tis the near approach of springtime, Planting flowers in the wood.

As the flowery host advances, Before them sullen winter flies, As the money from the pockets Of men who do not advertise.

LOCOMOTIVE BLASTS

EARLINGTON YARDS TO BE DOUBLED.

Plan to Enlarge Tracks to Twice Their Present Capacity—Yard Will Move North and West

Plans have been drawn to double the present capacity of the Earlington yards of the L. & N. Railroad, and the final approval of the high officials of the system is confidently expected. The greatly increased freight business of the line and the local improvement caused by increase in business originating at the coal mines and coke ovens renders it imperative that the Earlington yards be enlarged. The new arrangement of the yards contemplates their extension on the northwest side and the making up of trains at that end of the yard. This will relieve the congestion of traffic over the principal crossing of the city over Main street, where many of the trains are now made up, and will please the people of Earlington immensely.

Will Occupy New Evansville Depot.

The Superintendent, Assistant Superintendent, General Freight Agent and other officials of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad located at Evansville, will move into their new offices in the beautiful new station in about ten days or two weeks. The city ticket office, with Leo Hurd in charge, will still remain at First and Main, to remind the public of the place where the L. & N. lived so many years.

GREAT RECORD OF TRAINS.

Out of 53 Trains on the Henderson Division in 24 Hours, 50 Made the Schedule.

The Henderson Division made a great record one day in February, on the 12th, when fifty-three trains of all classes were run over the division and all but three of the whole number made schedule time. Forty-one of these trains were freights. This is an unusual record. The three trains that did fail to make schedule time only lost a little time each and finished their runs just a little late. This day's record is believed to be a record breaker. The Transportation office at Louisville has been asked if any other division can show a better record, but the department is said to be silent yet—probably speechless. Sap't Jno. W. Logsdon doesn't believe this can be beaten.

NEW FREIGHT DEPOT.

Hopkinsville to Have New Brick Building On L. & N. to Cost Eighteen Thousand Dollars.

Among other extensive improvements that will be made along the line of the Henderson Division of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad during this year is a new freight depot and offices of the company to be erected at Hopkinsville. The building will be of brick and stone and will cost $18,000. The freight traffic of the L. & N. has so increased at that busy town that the new structure has become a necessity. It will be built on the site now occupied for this purpose.

Business on the Shawneetown branch of the L. & N. has been looking up for some time. The coal mines of Equality, Ill., are now in excellent shape and shipping a good output. Other freight business is good and passenger traffic was never better. Conductor White continues to run the latter branch of the business.

The new Evansville passenger station is to have three umbrella sheds for passenger trains and the most improved facilities for handling passengers and making up and transferring trains. The final work is now being pushed and the new station will be occupied in a short while.

An addition to the Madisonville freight depot, which includes a re-arrangement of the offices, was some time since authorized by the L. & N., and part of the material is on the ground. The plans authorize an addition to cost about $3,200, which will put the freight department at that place in good shape to handle the increased business at Madisonville.

Work on the new depot at Slaughter'sville has begun. This building is one among a number of new depots that were authorized by the L. & N. last year. The materials were ordered and have just now been delivered. The company went into the open markets and purchased materials for the new stations at Seabrook and Robards, authorized at the same time, which have just now been completed.

Probable changes in the route to avoid grades on the south end of the Henderson Division, it is said on good authority, will prevent contemplated improvements in building along that part of the line until the final decision is reached with reference to these changes, and the work of changing begun.

Mrs. J. B. Yount, of Nashville, Tenn., is visiting friends in Goddetsville this week.

Miss Alice Frazier, of Howell, is visiting in Henderson this week.

Mrs. S. S. Shelton, of Earlington, is spending the week in Henderson.

Mrs. W. A. Talley, of Earlington, has gone to Nashville to visit friends.

Superintendent of Machinery Polaski Leeds will visit Howell shops about the middle of the week.

Master Mechanic Thos. Walsh, of Howell Shops, was the happy recipient last week of a telegram from his son, F. O. Walsh, at Montgomery, Ala., announcing the arrival of a grandson, Thos. Walsh, Jr.

Three neat cottages are being erected on the St. Louis Division "Y" between Howell and Evansville to be used by the section foremen. Two have already been finished and the third is nearing completion.

Fireman B. F. Ezell has resigned his position on the Shawneetown Accommodation to try his luck as an agriculturalist near Shawneetown, Ill., where he has rented a farm for five years. His many L. & N. friends wish him unlimited success in that capacity.

Ten new 200-class consolidation engines are arriving at Nashville, for use on the Henderson and St. Louis Division, to replace some of the smaller engines of the 600 and 800 class, which will be sent south.

Advices have been received that the L. & N. is negotiating for new machinery for Howell Shops, the object being to equip that shop so it will be one of the best in the country.

While it is very important that every human engine puffing up and down the grades of life should be supplied with "sand," it is more important that there should be no gravel in the sand.

At New York it is said that the Louisville and Nashville is likely to attract particular attention among railroad men during the next few months. It is said that a bond issue amounting to perhaps $300,000 is in contemplation, and that it may be authorized before April.

It is believed at Nashville that the Louisville and Nashville will soon acquire an entrance into Atlanta over a new line that is being surveyed by the Seaboard Air Line from Marietta to Atlanta.

PROVERBS

"When the butter won't come put a penny in the churn," is an old time dairy proverb. It often seems to work though no one has ever told why.

When mothers are worried because the children do not gain strength and flesh we say give them Scott's Emulsion. It is like the penny in the milk because it works and because there is something astonishing about it.

Scott's Emulsion is simply a milk of pure cod liver oil with some hypophosphites especially prepared for delicate stomachs.

Children take it to naturally because they like the taste and the remedy takes just as naturally to the children because it is so perfectly adapted to their wants.

For all weak and pale and thin children Scott's Emulsion is the most satisfactory treatment.

We will send you the penny, i. e., a sample free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

"PICKINGS FROM PUCK."

A Really Funny Play. Will Appear at the Temple Theatre Next Tuesday Night, March 10.

The play is up to date, bright, snappy, and the least of the good features is its originality, a review of the current events humorously and artistically treated, introducing special novelties, catchy songs, graceful dancing and beautiful scenery. At a state rally of Prohibition-ists in Baltimore, Md., lasting four days and ending February 19, Henry N. Hanna, editor of the Endeavor, the state paper, urged the more extended use of the newspapers, and assured the audience that newspaper men were not always so totally depraved as they were sometimes supposed to be.

The anti-cigarette meeting held in the Christian church at Madisonville, last Sunday afternoon, was well attended, the large church being filled with an interested audience.

The exercises were quite impressive and a large number of both boys and girls signed the anti-cigarette pledge.

This department has never occupied a great deal of space in attacking the cigarette, but we have said a good deal and shall probably say a good deal more against the use of tobacco in any form.

Cigarette smoking by boys is the direct result of the use of cigars by men. Imitation is the law of a child's being which he can no more help than he can help breathing the air that is around him. It is this law of imitation which causes children
to play with dolls, make mud
pies, to ride a stick for a horse,
and to do in their childish way
the thousand and one other things which they see their elders do. This being true, how can we expect a boy not to want to smoke, not to try to smoke?

More than this, many fathers not only develop this desire in their boys to smoke by setting the example, but they impart to them also a liking for tobacco.
Think how many babes, before they are able to walk even, have their little bodies poisoned with the smoke of their father's pipe
or cigar. No matter how boldy
a man may protest that tobacco
does not hurt him, he will admit that it is injurious to children;
and the younger the child, the greater the injury.

We never see a father holding his babe while smoking that we do not feel like remonstrating.
Just think of it! We have been creditably informed that no one is allowed to smoke in the stable
where a blooded colt is standing on account of the injury that the colt might receive, yet an innocent child that can make no defense of its own is poisoned day
after day and month after month
by the one who ought to risk his life to protect it from harm.

Sooner or later its little nervous system ceases to reconstitute.
The deadly nicotine from its father's breath becomes absorbed in every fiber of its nerves

and every cell in its brain, and a love for tobacco is the inevitable result. What a monstrous crime against childhood!

Let us see how many fathers
will sign a pledge not to smoke.
Let the fathers take the lead and there will soon be no need for anti-cigarette societies.

Tennessee Still Active.

On February 18 the chapters of Dayton, Trenton, Union City,
Pulaski, Morristown and Double Springs were abolished that these towns may become "hereafter incorporated" under the provisions of the "four mile limit."

In the fall of 1898, at its annual convention in the city of St. Paul, the national W. C. T. U., after a prolonged debate,
voted to drop The Temple as an affiliated interest. Since that time no reference to The Temple
has been allowed in the columns of the Union Signal, the official organ of the national union.

For a long time the impression prevailed that all effort towards the payment of The Temple's indebtedness had been abandoned,
and it was not until The Temple
trustees were able to issue a publication of their own that this erroneous impression could be counteracted.

As the local unions, one after another, were led to understand that the action of the national union had no legal value, that The Temple was a chartered institution and controlled by a board of trustees entirely independent of the W. C. T. U., and that this board had not abandoned the intention of still paying for The Temple, they began to rally again to its aid.

One of the leaders of the movement to drop The Temple and one of its strongest opponents
was Mrs. Clara C. Hoffman, so well and so favorably known throughout this section, yet it has now turned out that the union in her own town, Kansas City, Mo., and bearing her own name, the Hoffman union, has finally come to the support of The Temple.

In a number of towns in Pennsylvania the Prohibitionists elected one or more candidates at their last elections. In Point Marion the entire ticket was elected. In Sheffield the entire ticket with but one exception,
and that one on the narrow margin of eight votes. The largest Prohibition majority was 320, for
O. R. Moore for auditor.

Dangers of Pneumonia.

A cold at this time if neglected is able to cause pneumonia which is so often fatal, and even when the patient has recovered the lungs are weakened, making them peculiarly susceptible to the development of consumption. Foley's Honey and Tar will stop the cough, heal and strengthen the lungs and prevent pneumonia.

POPE'S SILVER JUBILEE.

Celebration of the Twenty-Fifth Anniversary of the Coronation of Pope Leo XIII.

IMPOSING SPECTACLE IN ST. PETERS.

The Pope, notwithstanding the Stories of His Serious Indisposition, Participated, Looking More Like an Enthusiast of White Spirit
Than a Human Being.

Rome, March 4.—The twenty-fifth anniversary of the coronation of Pope Leo was celebrated with all the grandeur and impressiveness associated with the high ceremonies of the Catholic church and amid a display
of enthusiasm and emotion, Tuesday,
on the part of the vast assemblage
gathered within the walls of St.
Peter's such as had with the greatest of previous demonstrations of reverence and affection for the aged pontiff.

Tuesday night all the sacred edifices in Rome, monasteries, convents, seminaries and also many private houses were illuminated in commemoration of the event, the Trastevere quarter and the Leonine city especially presenting a blaze of light, while the general effect was heightened by the burning of Bengal fires throughout the city.

Pope Leo, who supported admirably the fatigue and excitement of the day's ceremony, after having retired, rose again from his couch, and going to the window of his bedroom, gazed for awhile upon this scene of illumination. The view from the Vatican, embracing a stretch of seven miles
brilliant with light, was a marvelous one, and his holiness exclaimed as he withdrew from the window:
"This will, indeed, be a pleasant thing to dream of."

The ceremony in St. Peter's Cathedral lasted two hours and a quarter,
and although it was noticeable that Pope Leo felt the effects of his recent cold all were surprised to see how well he seemed.

Bells Began Out a Signal.

At 11 o'clock precisely the great bell of St. Peter's rang out a signal which was followed by the clanging of the bells of about 500 churches in Rome as they sounded the announcement that the pontiff was on his way to the Basilica. The life of the ancient city seemed to pause for a moment, hats were raised and the sign of the cross was made. Shortly afterwards inside St. Peter's silver trumpets blared out their message and the pon-tiff appeared. The people held their breath for a moment and then all of the pent-up emotions of the day
burst forth in a tremendous roar of welcome.

From his elevation on the new sedia gestatoria, carried by 12 men in continues of red and black, the pope appeared to be an enthroned white spirit, this impression being added to
by the pontiff's white robes and white mitre, delicate features, face white as alabaster and his thin hand moving slowly in benediction.

Bells Began Out a Mass.

When the pope arrived at the throne the ceremony proceeded rapidly. Leaving the sedia gestatoria, the pontiff knelt and prayed, and then rose without assistance, donned the falds and the new triple crown and
the celebration of the mass began.
At the moment of the elevation of the Host a profound silence fell on the assemblage, the guards presented arms, the people knelt, where it was possible for them to do so, and from the cupola came the clear, thin sounds of silver trumpets giving the idea of heavenly music. The pope
then administered the papal benediction and retired.

The Papal Benediction.

room for restoratives, prepared on purpose every day to greet St.
Peter's. There, addressing Dr. Lappini, his private physician, the pon-tiff said:

"You see, that, after all your warnings the ceremonies did me good.
What touching loyalty."

It was calculated that there were about 75,000 people present, including about 1,600 Americans in the tribunes
and the body of the church.

CANAL OPTION EXTENDED.

Proposal to the Panama Canal Co.
to Extend the Option on Company's Property Accepted.

Washington, March 4.—Att'y-Gen.
Knox, on leaving the cabinet meeting
Tuesday, announced that he had received from the Panama Canal Co. an acceptance of the proposal which he recently made to it with respect to the extension of the option on the canal company's property held by this government. He said that the communication from the canal company was of such a nature that the option would be kept alive until the ratification of the pending treaty—it mattered not whether the treaty was ratified before or after the conclusion of the present congress.

MONEY UNSAFE IN HONDURAS.

Seventy Thousand Dollars in Coin shipped to Make a Loan Void Seizure Declared War.

Mobile, Ala., March 4.—The war excitement is so great at Puerto Cortez, Honduras, and labor so scarce because it has fled to the interior, that the steamer Espana sailed for Mobile, loaded with gold and silver coin, and shipped out by Puerto Cortez merchants for safe keeping.

one of the difficulties in dealing with subjects of this kind? "I think that most labor leaders may justly be criticised for striving too eagerly for uniformity in wages and conditions. Perhaps this is owing to the fact that in the majority of organizations we have in this country have been in trades where the work has been single and not diverse. Take the locomotive engineers, for example. They are a single group required by each engineer. It is one branch. The engineer who can run a locomotive on one railroad can accommodate himself immediately to running a locomotive on another railroad. The converse is practically alike, whether it is located in Pennsylvania or in California. The conditions of employment are not the same, and there are a uniform scale of wages applicable to all. In the United States there must be just and has never been attempted, so far as I know. But I think that the best type of labor organization has been the one where the labor organization has been that of the locomotive engineer, and the reasons for it are plain. You must remember that the locomotive engineers represent the plant and the conductors represent the conductors' organization. There again the duties are practically the same and the men are picked men, possessed of high character, intelligence and ability.

"I can readily see how some measure of uniformity can be made to apply to isolated cases like these, but that they are isolated. It is, perhaps, the only labor organization in existence of some of the labor leaders that this doctrine of uniformity is so strongly insisted upon. Gompers, as I understand it, was a clear thinker, and he was a practical man, and a simple one. So, too, printers by reason of their intelligence are always active in proclaiming this doctrine of uniform wages.

"When your own vocation involves a simple and direct process, and when you come to take up the diversified work in a manufacturing industry where the process begins with the raw material and goes through a complicated process to the most complicated, delicate machinery, you see it is not a simple matter to have a uniformity of different skill, of different capacity, physical and mental. The whole thing is a very complicated and impracticable. In general, diversity, not uniformity, is the law. Diversity is the common property of everywhere.
